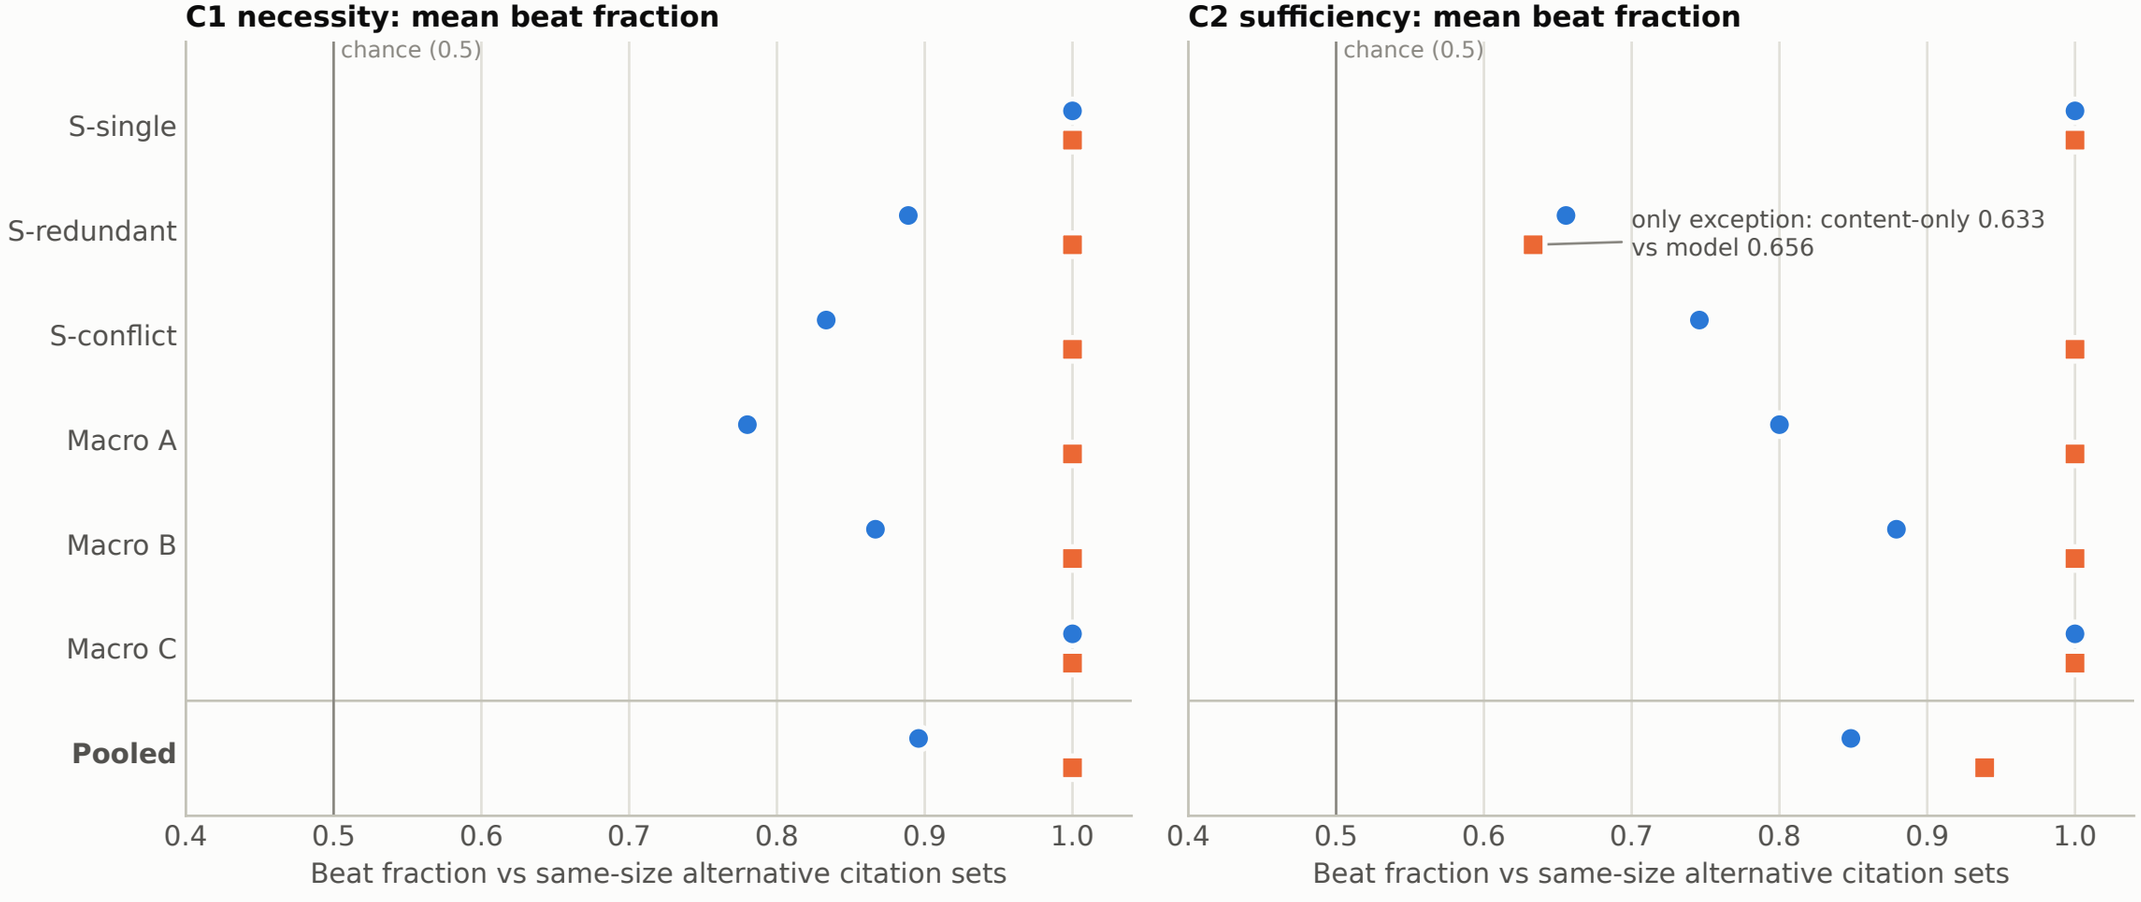
Post hoc: a citer that never looks at the model matches or beats its citations in 17 of 18 scenario × metric comparisons


Necessity and sufficiency shown; the third metric, Shapley top-k agreement, is equal or higher for the content-only citer in every scenario. Content-only sets come from the design (controls) or rubric (realistic).